Camp Verde's 2015 housing stock has great variety and diversity, ranging from historic homes to contemporary townhouses. Some Many neighborhoods are situated near densely vegetated waterways such as the Verde River, Beaver Creek, and Clear Creek, or on one of the many historic ditches. with mature natural vegetation. Low density and large lot areas typically enjoy setbacks that provide privacy and screening from noise and traffic. There is also higher density housing located near retail and health care.

The lots are seldom uniform, even in the highest density areas. Traffic tends to be slow moving, due to roads that curve to follow natural contours and scenic vistas throughout town. In the past, subdivisions have been small and sold as bare land.

More than 80% of these single-family dwellings were purchased by retirees.

During the first six months of 2015, occupancy rates for residential rental properties in Camp Verde were at or near 100%. This was true for all classes of rental properties, and reflects a circumstance of demand exceeding supply.

A. GOAL: ENCOURAGE A VARIETY OF HOUSING TYPES AND DENSITIES

CHAPTER 7
HOUSING

TO PROVIDE ~~HOUSING OPPORTUNITIES FOR ALL RESIDENTS~~
THAT ~~IS ARE~~ COMPATABLE WITHIN THEIR RESPECTIVE CHARACTER AREAS ~~IN WHICH IT IS LOCATED.~~

Implementation Strategy:

- A. 1. Developments should be compatible in terms of character density and use as defined in the individual Character Areas.
- A. 2. Encourage higher residential density development in conjunction with commercial uses, in areas with available infrastructure and pedestrian corridors, or where infrastructure can be developed.
- A. 3. Promote alternate housing development concepts, such as clustering on lands that have large open space, riparian, or other sensitive aspects.
- A. 4. Encourage public and neighborhood participation in proposed projects.
- A. 5. Encourage in-fill housing development as opposed to sprawl.

VISION STATEMENT:

Camp Verde will encourage and supports business growth and retention to give residents the ability to live, work and shop in the community. ~~Camp Verde should continue to grow at a rate of about three percent per year, putting the Town's population close to 12,300 by the year 2010. We successfully preserve our rich cultural history, Western agrarian heritage, and natural resources while fostering a strategically designed, resilient economy. that supports a quality of life that enables our families to thrive.~~[Focus Future Page 15]

INTRODUCTION:

Camp Verde is not required by Arizona Statute to have ~~includes~~ an Economic Development Element in its General Plan. ~~However, because of~~ its relationship to other elements in the plan and its importance to the community ~~outside the framework of the General Plan are significant.~~ The economy and a community's economic development policies are critical factors that influence the quality of life for both ~~government and local~~ citizens.

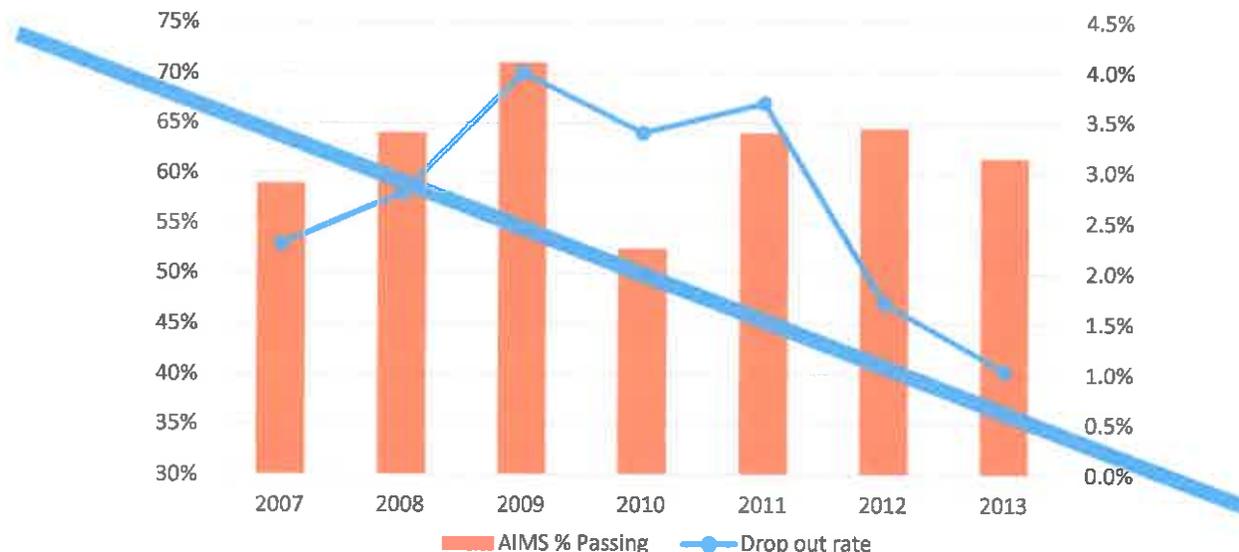

~~The economy and economic development policies are an important source of jobs, personal income, and tax revenues and perform vital roles in the health of any local economy. During public workshops, citizens expressed a desire for higher paying jobs, a variety of shopping opportunities, available health and medical care and affordable housing. The Economic Development Element will be crucial for providing the quality of life residents desire. Economic development efforts work to increase the standard of living for residents. Discussions about eEconomic development typically focus on business growth through business retention, expansion, and attraction. or expansion of the tax base. However, economic development~~Expanding the tax base is directly related to the overall quality of life of the area, ~~services provided,~~ and ensuring that the local economy is sustainable over time. [Focus Future Page 14]

~~Demographic information provided from the 2000 United States Census indicates that a greater percentage of Yavapai County residents 25 years of age and older have a high school diploma or equivalency compared to state and county averages.~~

~~There are several ways to provide an economic snapshot of a community and measure economic performance. Educational attainment is a key indicator to the overall health of the community. Dropout rates in Camp Verde are relatively low at only 1.0 percent compared to a state average of 3.5 percent. This figure represents a one year dropout rate for all high school grades. Class sizes are also smaller than state averages. AIMS scores for 8th grade students are consistently below state averages in both reading and math, but the differences were less in 2013 than in previous years: 63 percent of students met or exceeded standards in reading compared to 72 percent statewide. However, in math 60 percent met or exceeded, compared to 58 percent statewide.~~ [Focus Future Pages 12-13] The graduation rate for the Camp Verde School District show a steady increase in rates beginning in 2011. The median household income in Yavapai County is less than the state and country averages. Even with a lower median household income, the percent of residents below poverty is less in Yavapai County when compared to the state and national figures. However, Camp Verde, with a poverty rate of 14%, has a slightly higher poverty rate than the county, state and nation.

The most valid available measure of income at the local level is per capita income. Per capita income levels in the county increased 4.9 percent from 2007 to 2013, compared to a 5.6 percent increase statewide. However, per capita income in Yavapai County is still only 85 percent of the state average. Some of this can be explained by the fact that the county has a larger than average retiree population who is not living off current income and not reflected the same way in the per capita income figures. Median household income in Yavapai County increased by only 2.9 percent during the 2007 to 2013 period. Household income in Yavapai County was about 94 percent of the state average in 2013. The median household income for Camp Verde residents is $38,871. More than 40 percent earn less than $30,000 a year.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

DRAFT

~~The poverty rate in Camp Verde increased dramatically during the recession, rising from 17 percent in 2009 to 30 percent in 2012. In 2009, the county was only slightly above the state average, but by 2012 it was over 70 percent above the state average.~~

~~[Pages 6-7, 21]~~

~~In 1996, the Town Council accepted an economic development document sponsored by Arizona Public Service through the Focused Future Program. The Council never approved the document as an action plan for the Town. Citizen representatives formed the action team that researched and prepared the Focus Future Strategic Planning for Community Growth and Sustainability Study. At the time, the State of Arizona went through a planning process similar to Focused Future, which culminated in the development of an Arizona Strategic Plan for Economic Development (ASPED).~~

~~The 1998 General Plan listed the nine clusters identified in the ASPED as primary business focus areas to encourage relocating to Camp Verde. Those focus areas are tourism and experience; food, fiber, and natural products; transportation/distribution; hi-tech industry; bio-industry; minerals and mining; environmental technologies; software; and optics. Since the Focused Future Strategic Plan was completed, the Town's population has increased by approximately 24 percent from 7,999 in 1997 to an estimated 9,940 in 2002.~~

~~In the seven years since the Council accepted the Focused Future development plan an enlarged medical center, two discount stores, and three convenience gas stations have located to Camp Verde. The Town has progressed to the next phase of the Focused Future plan by beginning the Focused Future 2 planning project.~~

~~Camp Verde has a sustained partnership with its energy provider, APS, to assist with community development efforts. As part of this partnership, APS has worked with the community several times through its Focused Future program. A Focused Future was developed by APS to provide local communities technical assistance in developing a grassroots community and economic development strategic plan. The latest Focused Future effort initiated in late 2014 bringing together citizens, landowners, agencies, policy makers, and other stakeholders to develop the Camp Verde Focused Future Strategic Plan for Community and Economic Development. Led by an active, broad-based citizen and stakeholder committee called the Action Team, a year-long process to devise a community and economic development strategy was successfully completed.~~

~~The timing of the Focused Future II effort was intentional: as the required update of the Town's General Plan was approaching, the Town Council elected to move forward with the Focused Future effort so that the work of the Action Team could inform the update of the Economic Development element. While the product of the Focused Future II effort is a stand-alone community and economic development plan, its policy framework was used to inform direction provided within this element.~~

In late 2014, citizens, landowners, agencies, policy makers, and other stakeholders were brought together to develop the Camp Verde Focused Future Strategic Plan for Community and Economic Development. The plan and its policy framework, which will serve as a stand-alone community and economic development plan once approved by Town Council, was used in 2015 to provide direction and information within this element.

VISION STATEMENT:

Camp Verde will encourage business growth and retention to give residents the ability to live, work and shop in the community. Camp Verde should continue to grow at a rate of about three percent per year, putting the Town's population close to 12,300 by the year 2010.

INTRODUCTION:

Camp Verde is not required by Arizona Statute to have an Economic Development Element in its General Plan. However, its relationship to other elements in the plan and its importance to the community outside the framework of the General Plan are significant. The economy and a community's economic development policies are critical factors that influence the quality of life for both government and local citizens.

The economy and economic development policies are an important source of jobs, personal income, and tax revenues and perform vital roles in the health of any local economy. During public workshops, citizens expressed a desire for higher paying jobs, a variety of shopping opportunities, available health and medical care and affordable housing. The Economic Development Element will be crucial for providing the quality of life residents desire.

Demographic information provided from the 2000 United States Census indicates that a greater percentage of Yavapai County residents 25 years of age and older have a high school diploma or equivalency compared to state and country averages.

The median household income in Yavapai County is less than the state and country averages. Even with a lower median household income, the percent of residents below poverty is less in Yavapai County when compared to the state and national figures. However, Camp Verde, with a poverty rate of 14%, has a slightly higher poverty rate than the county, state and nation.

The charts below compare social characteristics from Yavapai County, the State of Arizona and the nation.

In 1996, the Town Council accepted an economic development document sponsored by Arizona Public Service through the Focused Future Program. The Council never approved the document as an action plan for the Town. Citizen representatives formed the action team that researched and prepared the Focus Future Strategic Planning for Community Growth and Sustainability Study. At the time, the State of Arizona went through a planning process similar to Focused Future, which culminated in the development of an Arizona Strategic Plan for Economic Development (ASPED).

Focused Future II Process

In late 2014, leaders in Camp Verde embarked on a very challenging project to develop a comprehensive community and economic development plan. The town of Camp Verde is the local sponsor along with APS for the Focused Future II process. It is the goal of Focused Future II to bring together citizens, landowners, agencies, policy makers and other stakeholders to develop the Camp Verde Focused Future Strategic Plan for Community and Economic Development.

At the heart of the process is an active, broad-based citizen and stakeholder committee called the Action Team. The Action Team's purpose is to work closely with APS and their consultants in completing the project. Over the course of the planning process, the Action Team met eight times.

The Focused Future II process answers three basic questions:

1. What are the opportunities to successfully strengthen and expand Camp Verde's economy?
2. What are the appropriate strategic initiatives for economic development?
3. How should Camp Verde's partners collaborate to be successful in implementing these initiatives?

Camp Verde's Strategic Position

Camp Verde is located in the geographic center of Arizona. Strategically positioned along Interstate 17 (I-17), Camp Verde is an hour south of Flagstaff (57 miles) and an hour and a half north of Phoenix (90 miles).

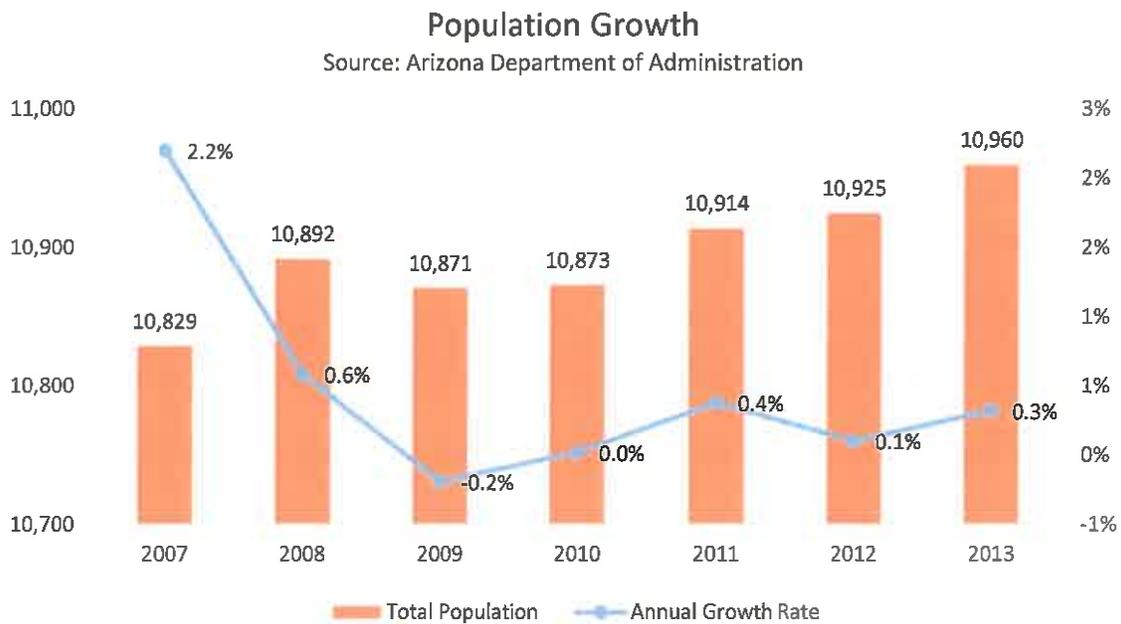

Camp Verde’s Economic Snapshot

The economic snapshot includes nine areas measuring economic performance: population, labor force, income, economy, construction, assessed value, municipal revenues and quality of life. Indexing local data relative to statewide trends, data suggests that the town is lagging the state in terms of economic recovery. While Camp Verde experienced limited growth over the last several years, decline in key indicators exists (i.e., labor force, construction activity and tax collection.)

Population

Population growth is the most basic measure of activity levels in the community. Details about demographic trends help explain how population may impact other facets of the economic climate. Camp Verde’s population grew by only about 1.2 percent between 2007 and 2013. There was no growth in 2009 and 2010 but there have been slight increases since then. Statewide population grew only 5 percent from 2007 to 2013, most of which occurred prior to 2009.

In terms of demographics, the town’s share of population under 18 is significantly lower than the state at about 19 percent versus 25 percent. In contrast, the share of population over 64 is nearly twice the state average.

School enrollment also tells an interesting story, increasing through 2009, dropping significantly in 2010 and 2011, and then rebounding to pre-recession levels during the past two years. Most of this growth is occurring at the elementary level, which may be an indicator of increases in younger working age residents.

Labor Force and Unemployment

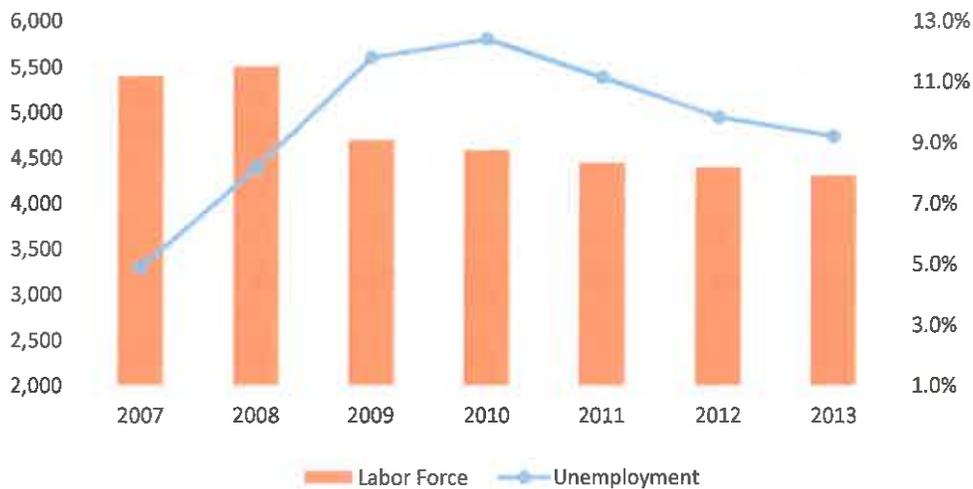

Labor force trends are a good overall indicator of the level of economic opportunity. The labor force in Camp Verde grew through 2008, but has decreased steadily since that time. Since population has not declined, this may be an indicator of shifting demographics. Labor force participation in the town has also declined rapidly from 63 percent of the population over age 18 in 2008, to 48 percent in 2013. In comparison, labor force participation at the state level is 61 percent.

Similar to the state, Camp Verde’s unemployment rate increased significantly during the recession. The state went from a low of 3.7 percent unemployment in 2007 to a high of 10.4 percent in 2010, while Camp Verde went from 4.9 to 12.4 percent during that time period. The past two years have shown some improvement with about a 3.2 percent decline in unemployment locally, although this is largely a function of the shrinking labor force.

Labor Force and Unemployment Trends

Source: Arizona Department of Administration

Educational attainment is also a factor closely linked to unemployment rates. The share of high school graduates is similar to the state at 86 percent, but the share of college graduates is well below the state average at 14 percent versus 27 percent.

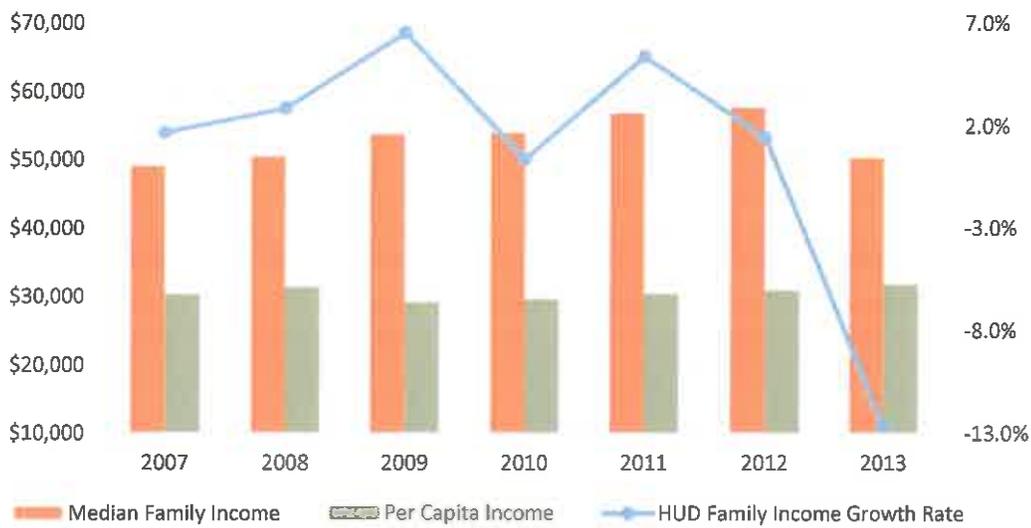

Median Income

The most valid available measure of income at the local level is per capita income. Per capita income levels in the county increased 4.9 percent from 2007 to 2013, compared to a 5.6 percent increase statewide. However, per capita income in Yavapai County is still only 85 percent of the state average. Some of this can be explained by the fact that the county has a larger than average retiree population who is not living off current income and not reflected the same way in the per capita income figures.

Median household income in Yavapai County increased by only 2.9 percent during the 2007 to 2013 period. Household income in Yavapai County was about 94 percent of the state average in 2013. Income data is not available at the city level.

Yavapai County Income Comparison

Source: Woods & Poole Economics; US Census Bureau, American Community Survey

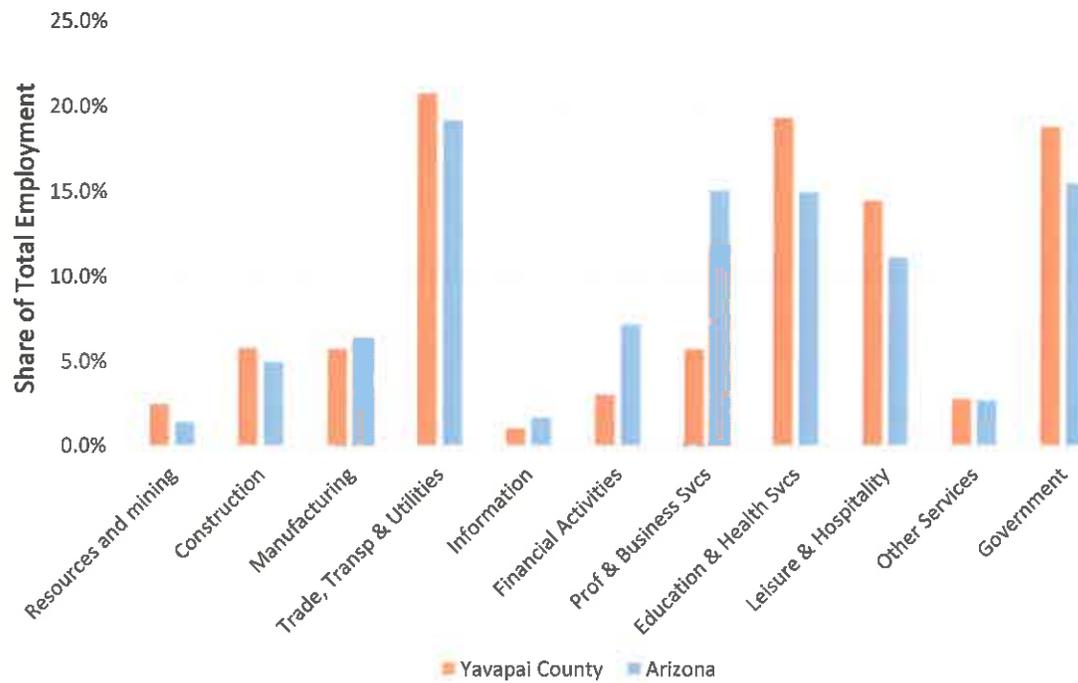

The poverty rate in Camp Verde increased dramatically during the recession, rising from 17 percent in 2009 to 30 percent in 2012. In 2009, the county was only slightly above the state average, but by 2012 it was over 70 percent above the state average.

Economy

Understanding the makeup of the region’s economic base sheds light on its ability to weather recessions and its response to the recovery. During the last seven years, Yavapai County has seen a steady decrease in the number of business establishments with about 1,170 fewer establishments in 2013 than in 2007. Although data is only available for Camp Verde through 2011, the town appears to follow a similar pattern. Industry employment declined over the same time period in both the County and Camp Verde, although the County has shown modest growth since 2011. Camp Verde represents about only 5 percent of county employment. Overall, the county has a higher share of education/health services, hospitality and government employment than the state as a whole. However, the share of employment in finance and professional services is well below average. The proportion of workers employed in export industries, those that bring in wealth from outside the area, is about 14 percent in Yavapai County, versus roughly 23 percent for the state.

Taxable Sales

Taxable sales are a key indicator of local economic conditions, particularly in an economy not heavily driven by resource or manufacturing industries. Sales tax collections started to decline in Camp Verde in 2008 and continued this trend through 2012. In August 2012, the local sales tax rate increased from 2 to 3 percent, resulting in increased collections in 2013. A large portion of the decline locally came from construction sales tax as construction activity ground to a halt. Retail sales also dropped off significantly, although restaurants and bars fared better than other retail establishments. Sales tax collections, excluding retail and construction, made up 42 percent of the base in Camp Verde in 2007, but with the modest recovery in the local economy non-retail/non-construction sales have risen to 52 percent of the total in 2013.

The level of taxable sales per capita in 2013 is about 58 percent of the statewide figure, down from 63 percent in 2007. However, the state is back to 82 percent of pre-recession levels, while Camp Verde is only at 69 percent.

As the economy begins to recover, taxable sales are growing. See pages 17 and 18 for latest tax collection data.

Construction

Construction activity is often a leading economic indicator and was a critical factor in Arizona’s recession. Construction activity in Camp Verde declined precipitously from 2007 to 2011, similar to many communities in Arizona. There was a temporary increase in 2012 due to seven new commercial buildings, but 2013 levels are lower than any previous years shown here. The total value of permits issued fell from a high of $7.6 million in 2007 to $3.7 million in 2013. Residential development activity was up significantly in 2012 and 2013, but commercial activity has been more variable.

The number of new housing units in the town peaked in 2013 at 31, exceeding the previous high of 27 new units in 2007. However, this is well below boom levels from 2006 and before when over 100 units per year were added in Camp Verde. At the state level, construction activity began to pick up in the fourth quarter of 2011 following several years of minimal activity. Construction statewide has continued to increase gradually since that time, dominated by residential activity.

Construction Activity

Assessed Value

Assessed value generally fluctuates much less than construction activity, although this has been less true during the recent recession. Total assessed value in Camp Verde rose steadily through 2009 and then dropped 41 percent over the next four years during the recession. Current value is still 20 percent below 2007 levels. Statewide assessed value is 27 percent below 2007 levels. Unlike many communities, residential and commercial values fell by nearly equal amounts in percentage terms and were comparable in magnitude to declines at the state level.

Residential value in the Town currently represent about 58 percent of the total assessed value, a ratio that has held fairly steady over the past seven years. Per capita residential valuation peaked in 2009, but has fallen by 41 percent since that time compared to a 40 percent drop at the state level.

Commercial/industrial assessed value per employee has also fallen from its peak in 2010 and is down about 40 percent for both the state and the town.

Although there is no impact on revenues since the town has no property tax, assessed value trends are indicative of general real estate market conditions, although assessed value generally lags market value.

Municipal Revenues

Municipal revenue trends are a way to understand how economic activity translates into fiscal sustainability for the town. Total general fund revenues increased 64 percent from 2007 to 2009, dropping significantly in 2010 due to declines in sales tax collections and state shared revenues. Overall, general fund revenues are 36 percent lower in 2013 than they were in 2007, despite the increase in the sales tax rate in 2012.

General Fund Revenues

Source: Town of Camp Verde

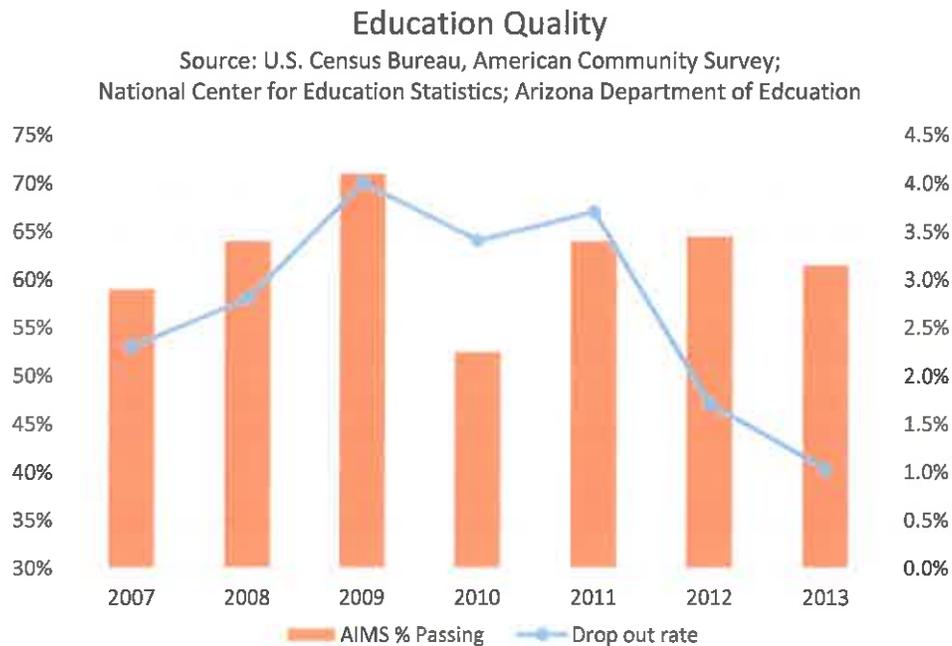

In terms of local tax collections in the general fund, Camp Verde does not have a property tax, so sales tax comprises the majority of local tax collections. Tax collections decreased rapidly from 2007 to 2012 as construction sales tax declined coupled with overall poor economic conditions resulting in declining retail sales. However, as a result of the sales tax rate increase in 2012 and the lack of population growth, tax collections per capita are nearly equivalent to 2007 levels. Total general fund revenues per capita have been on the decline since 2009 and are still 37 percent below 2007 levels.

Quality of Life

Quality of life is an important measure of the overall health of the community. In this section, we look at education and crime as well as cost of living.

In terms of education, dropout rates in Camp Verde are relatively low at only 1.0 percent compared to a state average of 3.5 percent. This figure represents a one year dropout rate for all high school grades. Class sizes are also smaller than state averages. AIMS scores for 8th grade students are consistently below state averages in both reading and math, but the differences were less in 2013 than in previous years. Last year, 63 percent of students met or exceeded standards in reading compared to 72 percent statewide. However, in math 60 percent met or exceeded, compared to 58 percent statewide.

In terms of crime, Camp Verde is substantially safer than many of the urban areas in the state. The rate of violent crime per 100,000 population is about 56 percent below the state average while the rate of property crime is about 29 percent below the state average.

Other measures of quality of life include housing costs and commute times. As of 2013, the median value of existing homes in Camp Verde was just slightly above the state average. Camp Verde has an above average share of owner occupied housing which tends to make a community more stable. Commute times in Camp Verde are slightly longer than state averages, but the volume of traffic is far less than in urban areas.

Strategic Direction

The community and economic development plan is intended to be an action-oriented strategy to strengthen Camp Verde’s economy. Its strategic nature focuses on actions that can be initiated or accomplished over the next five years. It is not intended to address every issue or tackle every problem facing the community. The objective is to identify those actions that are realistic and can provide results that build upon the community’s assets and opportunities.

The plan also recognizes the need for strong partnerships between government (municipal, tribal and educational), agencies, citizens, service organizations, and the business community. The plan respects the existing roles and responsibilities of the various organizations but encourages collaboration in achieving many of the strategic initiatives. Effective implementation of this plan will require cooperation and collaboration over time to realize sustained success.

Economic Development Primer

The purpose of the Camp Verde community and economic development plan is to serve as a guide to local decision-making, provide a road map for the region’s economic future, and serve as a benchmark for monitoring progress over time.

Economic development efforts work to increase the standard of living for residents. Discussions about economic development typically focus on business growth through business retention, expansion, and attraction or expansion of the tax base. However, economic development is directly related to the overall quality of life of the area and ensuring that the local economy is sustainable over time.

There are two types of economic activity:

- Basic economic activities bring new dollars into the community. These activities include tourism-serving businesses and manufacturing. These types of activities typically create spin-off jobs for every job directly created.
- Non-basic activities re-circulate money that is already in the area (through activities such as dry cleaners or car washes). These activities help to keep dollars in the community and cash registers ringing.

Both types of economic activity are critical to local economies. In order for the local and regional economy to grow and expand, there must be new dollars coming into the area and enough business in the community for new dollars to circulate within and not immediately leave the local economy. The longer dollars can circulate within a local economy through non-basic activities, more wealth is created. The term “economic leakage” describes when capital or income exits the economy rather than remaining within the community for a multiplying effect. The following graphic illustrates this concept.

Guiding Principles

Guiding principles reflect the community's core values. The Action Team articulated development efforts would be balanced and sustainable as to not compromise the reasons why people live and do business in Camp Verde. These principles are intended to guide decision-making processes and define the manner in which Camp Verde will grow and develop.

1. Provide opportunities for citizens from a wide range of economic levels and age groups to live, work and thrive in the community.
2. Develop, grow and prosper in a manner that always reflects and respects the capacity of natural resources.
3. Foster sustainable development, encourage small businesses and entrepreneurs, and balance future growth with cultural/historic preservation.
4. Leverage existing social capital and foster an ethic of community investment.
5. Capitalize on opportunities to collaborate with partners and strategically align regional investments.
6. Integrate land use, circulation and economic development planning.
7. Implement development decisions in a predictable, fair, and cost effective manner that preserves the health, safety and welfare of residents and visitors.
8. Seek opportunities that complement existing and potential competitive advantages.
9. Define and communicate the true costs associated with development projects, including the impacts of non-contiguous and resource-demanding development.
10. Use arts and culture to foster a creative economy and to further define a sense of place.

Community and Economic Development Vision

A vision is an articulation of an ideal and unique future. A vision inspires, motivates and transforms desire into action. Camp Verde's prosperity is generated largely through the natural resources and unique assets that surround and traverse our community. Our prosperity is connected to the health of the Verde River and surrounding landscape, therefore we balance community and economic development with the need to preserve such assets for current and future generations.

We successfully preserve our rich cultural history, Western agrarian heritage, and natural resources while fostering a strategically designed, resilient economy that supports a quality of life that enables our families to thrive.

Implementation

Framework for Success

The Camp Verde Focused Future II: Community and Economic Development Strategic Plan is intended to help expand the regional economy and improve the standard of living for residents. The following guidance helps to frame how success can be realized.

Coordinated Approach

Entities, organizations and agencies involved in economic development must work together to achieve mutually agreed-upon goals to ensure a sustainable effort. Implementing the shared vision, goals and strategies as articulated within this plan is the first step toward cohesive and coordinated efforts.

Regional Collaboration

A comprehensive understanding of the region and a commitment to collaborating with entities throughout the region is critical. Regional partners include the towns of Clarkdale and Jerome and the cities of Cottonwood and Sedona, Yavapai County, Yavapai-Apache Nation, federal agencies such as the National Forest Service and National Park Service, and regional entities, including Northern Arizona Council of Governments (NACOG) and Sustainable Economic Development Initiative (SEDI) of Northern Arizona. The greater Camp Verde community should not consider themselves alone in growing a thriving economy; regional collaboration and synergistic efforts benefit all contributing partners.

Long-Term Commitment

Economic development is not a simple check list; overnight achievements should not be expected. Successful economic development programs require long-term investments (e.g., infrastructure and resource management) as well as continued political commitment to forwarding objectives and measuring progress.

Plan Evaluation and Update

The Camp Verde Focused Future II Community and Economic Development Strategic Plan serves as a guide for regional community and economic development efforts. However, it is critical to monitor how the plan is put into action. The Town, in collaboration with its partners, is responsible for monitoring how the plan’s implementation is progressing.

Adoption

The town of Camp Verde shall adopt or accept this plan. In coordination with the town's general plan update, policy direction provided herein is anticipated to become or serve as the framework for the development of the economic development element.

Communication

The Focused Future process is grassroots in nature, fueled by the contributions of volunteers and input from the community. Communication about the plan and its progress is critical. Upon adoption or acceptance, the plan's goals and strategies, as well as the town and its partners' short-term action plans should be widely communicated and progress reported.

Plan Distribution and Presentations

Because of the collaborative nature of this plan and the various agencies and allies needed for its success, the town shall announce its adoption or acceptance of this plan and distribute this framework to regional entities and partners. It's important that the community's economic vision is understood and that regional efforts contribute to its realization.

Formation of a Business Advocacy Group

A key strategy outlined within this plan is the development of a business advocacy group. Camp Verde has previously had a chamber of commerce, serving small businesses and assisting in business retention activities. While the town and other partners have attempted to address the gap in business support activities, strong business climates are served through an organization comprised of and for small business. Filling this business advocacy void is essential in formalizing and strengthening the voice of Camp Verde's business community.

Keeping Score

While many of the outlined strategies will comprise the work program of the town's economic development director, other agencies and organizations will serve as leaders for executing other strategies. While the town shoulders accountability for this plan, its success will rest on the contributions of the entire community; entities as outlined in Roles and Responsibilities will assist in coordination, implementation, reporting and other ways to contribute towards realization of this plan's vision.

Devising a strategy whereby the town and its partners report and track progress should be an immediate priority. Measuring community indicators against the plan's baseline reported herein is one mechanism for evaluating progress; authoring a report on strategy achievements is another mechanism for tracking effort.

The following implementation recommendations are offered:

- Support the Focused Future II Action Team (or similar entity) to serve as steward to this plan, meeting biannually to review and track progress.
- Create an annual progress report, authored in the first quarter of the year, to assist in budget and capital improvements planning.
- Submit annual progress reports to the community, partners (see Roles and Responsibilities) and the program sponsor, APS.

Plan Updates

As the plan is implemented and changes occur in the local and regional economy, the plan should also evolve. In keeping with the collaborative nature of the Focused Future program, the town and its partners should collaboratively review potential changes or edits to the plan. Any recommended changes would be presented to elected officials and considered in the same manner in which the plan was originally adopted or accepted.

Roles and Responsibilities

The following matrix identifies primary and secondary roles in forwarding the strategies outlined in the Camp Verde Focused Future II, Community and Economic Development Strategic Plan. This matrix is intended to encourage collaboration and communication amongst entities as cooperation by these and other partners will be necessary to realize success. It is important to recognize that this list is not inclusive and serves to identify agencies with significant roles or interests, but not to exclude the variety of partners or collaborative efforts needed to realize results.
