Notes from the Library

October /November 2014

Note from the Director

At the October 1, 2014 Town Council meeting, Mayor German proclaimed November 1, 2014 as Extra Mile Day to recognize the volunteers in the community who go the “extra mile” in providing services or donating to the community. Well... here at the library we know we have the BEST volunteers in Town. Hands Down!

Between June 2012 and June 2014, we increased from 16 to 31 volunteers (that’s 70% more !) and received 106% more hours contributed to the library (and Alice wonders why she’s so busy!). Click here for an overview of what we have accomplished in the past two years and then sit back and accept our sincere gratitude for all you do every day for us.

Our way of showing a token of our appreciation will come the first week of November. Before the holidays hit and you get your fill of desserts, library staff will bring treats every day so that each of you can enjoy a break in the kitchen with a fresh cup of coffee or tea and a sweet or two. It’s only a token, but we do thank you for your part in making CVCL an amazing library!

Featured Volunteer: Bob Gottschalk

I speak Geek!

Ever wonder, “Who is the guy fixing the computers” in the library? I do have a real name (besides “Alice’s husband). I’m called “Bob Gottschalk” by most people. In addition to making an attempt at keeping the computers in the library functioning, I still work full time in Flagstaff at W.L. Gore and Associates (31 years). There, I design and build automated machines and related tooling to build our medical devices. It’s a pretty challenging job so I look forward to some “down time” volunteering at the library doing easier things. I’ve been volunteering at this library since 2011 and I enjoy helping out where I can. Born in Cleveland, Ohio I moved to Arizona with Uncle Sam in 1963 and never looked back. You can’t beat the weather here. Alice and I will be celebrating our 47th wedding anniversary in May. She really hooked a good one huh! (She may debate that statement if asked). I’m looking forward to meeting those of you I don’t know. (Ask me about your computer problems some time).
